
Mary Womack Assumes Key Role as MHS Health Strategy Director at Leidos

Mary Womack has officially taken on the role of MHS Health Strategy Director at Leidos, bringing her wealth of experience and expertise to steer the company's healthcare strategy.

As a seasoned Senior Business Development Manager, Womack possesses exceptional skills in New Business Development and Data Analysis. Her extensive background as a business executive encompasses senior leadership roles in government and corporate business development, along with a proven track record in programme management.

Womack's proficiency extends to programme strategy, systems deployment, information technology, enterprise-wide deployment, client relationship management, strategic planning, systems integration, and process improvement. She has demonstrated the ability to quickly acquire an expert-level understanding of existing and new company capabilities.

With an unparalleled comprehension of the Defence Health Agency (DHA), Veterans Affairs (VA), state/local, and commercial healthcare markets, Womack is well-equipped to navigate the complex landscapes of these sectors. Her unique skill set enables her to forge and maintain strong relationships, navigate political terrain, and secure leveraged access within organisations at every level.

Published on : Sun, 28 Jan 2024