
Nicolaas Fosselle Becomes CEO of RheumaFinder

RheumaFinder, a trailblazer in healthcare innovation, welcomes Nicolaas Fosselle as its new CEO. Fosselle's leadership aims to propel the company forward in tackling the challenge of underdiagnosed rheumatic diseases through groundbreaking AI solutions in medical imaging.

RheumaFinder's mission revolves around addressing the critical issue of late diagnoses in rheumatology. Their cutting-edge software solutions target the timely identification of these diseases, allowing patients to begin treatment promptly and significantly enhance their quality of life.

As CEO, Fosselle is committed to steering RheumaFinder towards sustained innovation. His role involves driving strategic initiatives, fostering partnerships, and guiding dedicated teams to transform rheumatic disease diagnosis and management. The company stands poised to revolutionise the healthcare landscape with its unwavering dedication to improving patient outcomes through advanced technology.

Published on : Thu, 28 Dec 2023