Toshiba, Barco and TomTec are recognized for their outstanding performance and support to Agfa HealthCare's business

- Awards are based on quality, delivery and cost, as well as the results from a cross-functional stakeholder survey.
- 30 suppliers in total were pre-selected, representing imaging systems, imaging informatics solutions and healthcare information systems.
- The three winners were selected by Agfa HealthCare's Executive Committee.

(RSNA 2015, Booth #1315, South Hall) Agfa HealthCare has announced that this year it has presented three Supplier Excellence awards at RSNA 2015. Toshiba has won Best Supplier Gold for its thermal print heads; Barco has won Best Supplier Silver for its overall performance, quality and delivery; and TomTec Imaging Systems GmbH has won the Most Committed Supplier Bronze. The awards were presented to the three companies on 30 November at Agfa HealthCare's booth at RSNA 2015.

Highlighting outstanding support and commitment by suppliers

The annual Supplier Excellence awards are based on Supplier Scorecards that take into account quality, delivery, cost and services. In addition, this year a cross-functional stakeholder survey on the nominated suppliers was carried out, and the resulting scores taken into consideration. The review board is made up of Agfa HealthCare Executive Committee members. For 2015, 30 suppliers were nominated, with three selected for the Gold, Silver and Bronze awards.

"Our suppliers play a key role in our success as a healthcare imaging and IT company, and it is important that together we create a positive dynamic that allows all of us to serve our customers even better," says Luc Thijs, President of Agfa HealthCare. "Part of this is recognizing and appreciating those suppliers who give us outstanding support. All of the 30 pre-selected companies are 'winners' in this respect, but Toshiba, Barco and TomTec really excelled."
