
Andreas Honetschläger Takes on New Role as Founder, Owner, and CEO of Österreichische Lymphinstitute

Andreas Honetschläger has embarked on a transformative journey as the Founder, Owner, and CEO of the Österreichische Lymphinstitute, a role he assumed in August 2023. In just two months, he has made significant strides in the field of lymphatic drainage and therapeutic massage, with a dedicated focus on treating a wide range of clinical conditions.

Under Honetschläger's leadership, the Österreichische Lymphinstitute specialises in addressing various health issues, including pain and discomfort in the spine, head, joints, nerves, organs, and muscles. Their expertise extends to primary and secondary lymphedema, which often arises following surgeries such as mastectomies, lymphadenectomies, and prostatectomies, as well as after cancer treatments, joint replacements, inflammations, and injuries. The institute also offers assistance for phlebo-lymphedema, lipo-lymphedema, lipedema (lipohyperplasia dolorosa), and lower eyelid edema, provided patients have a doctor's referral.

Andreas Honetschläger's leadership promises to bring relief and an improved quality of life to those suffering from these conditions, further establishing the Austrian Lymph Institute as a cornerstone of specialised healthcare.
