

BioClinica Acquire CardioNow

This purchase enables BioClinica to offer electronic transport solutions to facilitate the blinding, sharing, tracking and archiving of medical images for multi-centre clinical trials as part of its suite of imaging services.

BioClinica said that CardioNow has successfully managed more than 8.8 million DICOM images for global clinical studies over the past 10 years. With the integration of CardioNow, BioClinica will be able to manage the process that begins once a medical image is acquired at a clinical site through the delivery of evaluated results to the sponsor.
