

Carestream Health and Lothian Health Board Sign Access Agreement For Scotland PACS Project

Carestream Health and Lothian Health Board Sign Access Agreement For Scotland PACS Project

GENEVA, Switzerland, August 9—Carestream Health announced the signing of an Access Agreement with the Lothian Health Board in Scotland, as part of its contract with National Services Scotland (NSS), the procurement body for National Health Service (NHS) Scotland, for the National PACS Project. With the Edinburgh Royal Infirmary at its heart, Lothian is one of the largest Health Boards in Scotland and offers a range of care to the people of Edinburgh, Lothian and beyond over ten hospital sites, three of which have A&E facilities.

Published on : Thu, 9 Aug 2007