

Court action to follow EU working time deadlock

The legal action comes after governments were unable for the fifth time in a row to resolve the problem which has been dragging on for half a decade and was sparked by a ruling in Europe's top court regarding pay and rest of workers on duty, such as doctors or firemen.
Five countries - France, Spain, Italy, Greece and Cyprus

Published on : Wed, 8 Nov 2006