
Envision Healthcare Announces New Addition to Leadership Team

Envision Healthcare, a leading national medical group, today announced the addition of healthcare operations leader Charles McRae to its leadership team. McRae will serve as Service Line Executive for the Anesthesia Service Line, working closely with James Johnson, MD, Chief Clinical Officer of Anesthesia.

"Charles brings a strong track record of building great teams and fostering an engaging culture," said Chan Chuang, MD, FCCP, FACP, Chief Medical Officer of Envision Healthcare and President of Envision Physician Services. "With an extensive healthcare background and demonstrated success improving processes and helping teams perform at their best, his leadership and expertise will advance Envision's goal of being America's leading medical group."

"I am deeply invested in helping improve the health and well-being of communities across America and I am honored to join the team," McRae said. The work Envision does every day to care for millions of patients and improve the U.S. healthcare system for all is truly inspiring. I look forward to supporting the care team and strengthening Envision's ability to serve patients."

McRae joins Envision from Radiology Partners, where he most recently served as Senior Vice President of Operations. He also previously held the role of Chief Executive Officer at Columbus Radiology Partners. McRae brings with him a demonstrated talent for refining processes. He received his bachelor's in history and his Master of Business Administration from the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He has also studied physics and computer science.
