
Harry Pappas, the new Open Voice Network Health, Wellness, and Life Sciences Community Ambassador

Harry P. Pappas was recently appointed as Ambassador of the Health, Wellness, and Life Sciences Community at the Open Voice Network. The Open Voice Network is the new 'standards' body whose goal is bringing Interoperability, Security, Privacy and Trust to the VOICE technology industry. His focus is to use VOICE in the Health, Wellness and Life Sciences ecosystem worldwide.

Pappas is also Founder and has been CEO of Intelligent Health Association for eight years. Pappas is a successful serial entrepreneur focusing on the health technology sector. He is a firm believer in applying technology to transform the health and wellness community in today's 'continuum of care'.
