
Hospital Dramatically Increases Transplant Donations By Integrating Bereavement And Donor Services

A UK hospital that combined its bereavement and donation services saw a forty-fold increase in tissue donations, such as corneas, in just five years, according to research in the August issue of Anaesthesia.

Published on : Tue, 4 Aug 2009