
Lachen, Switzerland: ProVib launches a new vibration plate with MDD medical certification

The vibration therapy is considered to be supportive for osteoporosis, strengthening of muscles and various back problems, incontinence, Multiple Sclerosis, Parkinson, balance and coordination. The positive effects are proven with several studies from universities.

Since the beginning of 2008 the ProVib GmbH has a medically certificated vibration plate, called ProVib Medical (CE0408, 93/42/EWG). A treatment with the ProVib Medical means an optimal medical device for patients - secure, technically advanced and made in Austria.
