The people in charge of European hospitals are going to meet at "Hospital Build Europe" in Berlin, from 24 to 26 April 2012, in order to exchange ideas and information about planning, design, construction, facility management, modernisation and hospital management. Intensive knowledge transfer will take place in the five convention series accompanying the trade fair. The main focus will be on such issues as healing environment, cooperation arrangements in the health sector, mobile health, green hospitals and the development of the hospital market up to 2020.

The exhibitors are organising workshops and will present their product developments in a special forum. In addition, special tours will take place: For example, during a visit to the Charité hospital and the community hospital group Vivantes, the participants can witness the operation of hospitals close up. At Charité, the destination of the tour will be the construction site of the master plan project at Campus Mitte, the new construction of the preclinical department and the research centre for neurosciences and immune sciences.
