
Mark Ebbens – Director at AlixPartners

Mark Ebbens is now the new director at AlixPartners. Ebbens is a growth-focused business leader with a long track record of supporting healthcare organisations to transform and deliver technology-enabled change.

In 2015 Marks Ebbens became Senior Partner of GE Healthcare, and in 2017 he became the EMEA Command Centre Lead for GE Helathcare. In this role he built the team, capability and market presence in EMEA for GE's Command Centre & Wall of Analytics Capability.

In 2019 Ebbens became VP & Global Head of Healthcare Transformation Services at Philips, where he guided all aspects of a £60m P&L to expand the Healthcare Transformation Services group of a multinational MedTech conglomerate.

Mark Ebbens is an expert at c-level consultative engagement to establish value partnerships and outcomes-based solutions. His expertise lies in value proposition creation and integrated solution development from inception to commercial activation.

Published on : Tue, 6 Jun 2023