

More Education in CT Operation Needed, Panel Reveals

The panel of 32 experts examined the issues and challenges facing computed tomography as its technology advances and its use rapidly expands. The panel met in August 2007 and April 2008 to discuss how forces influencing the evolution of CT will affect the future of radiologic science education and practice.

During the conferences, the panel discussed the following questions:

Published on : Mon, 13 Oct 2008