
Preventing Hospital Visits through Telemedicine

The benefits of a telephone support programme operating in Birmingham are obvious to Beryl Keating, who has been enrolled now for two years. Keating has had asthma and lung problems since she was 14; she now has chronic obstructive pulmonary disease.

Published on : Tue, 6 Oct 2009