
Telehealth to take Blood-Pressure Monitors Market to $1 Billion

Automatic upper-arm blood-pressure monitors were found to be the most popular, representing just over half of all monitors sold. The ease of use and consistent results gained from automatic upper-arm monitors have strengthened their position as the physicians

Published on : Mon, 29 Jan 2007