
Zurich 'Power for Life' Project Uses Schiller Defibrillators

In addition to a SCHILLER FRED easy type defibrillator, the resuscitation boxes installed contain an integrated GSM unit. When the first-aid box is removed, the emergency number 144 is dialled automatically, connecting the first aider directly to the Zurich rescue service via a mobile handsfree telephone. In this way, the dispatcher can help the non-professional rescuer on the phone until the paramedics arrive and take over.
